BaNES, Wiltshire and Swindon Teledermatology

Training Opportunities

In 15-20% of Telederm requests the image quality is of insufficient quality for the consultant to provide accurate diagnostic advice. This is therefore a waste of the GP, Consultant, and patient's time. Put this right by attending one of the following training opportunities.

- 1. Bitesize lunchtime sessions Better Image Taking for Dermatology
- 2. Half day online Dermoscopy training Beginners Part 1
- 3. Half day online Dermoscopy training Beginners Part 2

Half day training – "the best online training I have ever done" – BSW GP, 2020 Point of contact for any queries – Lauraine.jones@nhs.net

1. Bitesize lunchtime sessions – Better Image-Taking for Dermatology

Delivered by Dr Chin Whybrew, this is a one hour lunchtime session, aimed at GPs and anyone else in primary care who is receiving photos from patients, or sending photos for Teledermatology. It covers how to get a good photo, how to tell if it is a good enough photo, and how to help patients and primary care staff take better photos. It is an interactive session, full of tips and techniques to help us all work more efficiently. Please book onto one or more of the following bite size sessions as required:-

2. Half day online Dermoscopy training - Beginners Part 1

You are invited to a Zoom meeting.

This half day online session is delivered via Zoom, and presented by Dr Chin Whybrew. Chin is a GP in Cheltenham with a passion for primary care dermatology, and Dermoscopy in particular. She has been teaching Dermoscopy since 2012, for the Cardiff Dermoscopy course, Primary Care Dermatology Society and independently for practices and CCGs across the UK. This is an interactive course with plenty of opportunity to practice assessing lesions.

- How dermoscopy works and practical tips, including how to get good dermoscopy photos and troubleshooting tips
- A practical demonstration of the Heine DeltaOne. This includes how to turn it on, focus it, charge it, clean it etc.
- Interpretation of dermoscopic structures in benign lesions (seb K, angiomas, warts, dermatofibromas, sebaceous hyperplasia, comedones), BCCs and melanomas (and how this always needs to be taken in clinical context)
- How to put it all together into a simple algorithm
- Other uses of dermoscopy in primary care
