How to protect your organisation from fraud

- General Practices should check their finance systems. If any invoices have been received or paid in respect of the suppliers named above, please notify your counter fraud specialist.
- All NHS organisations need to be vigilant when receiving invoices. There is an increased risk of fraud during the pandemic as fraudsters take advantage of staff working from home who cannot always check if goods have been received, plus the increase in temporary suppliers. Invoices may be marked as overdue or urgent, putting pressure on staff to process payments swiftly.
