

Dear Colleague,

Due to the outstanding success of two previous training events on the use of Teledermatology in primary care, BSW CCG are pleased to announce a third training event in January. If your practice has signed up to a Teledermatology Pathway with either the Royal United Hospital, Salisbury Foundation Hospital or Great Western Hospital then please register. The training is free of charge and CPD certificates will be provided to all attendees from whom post-event feedback is received.

BSW CCG Online Dermoscopy Training Part 1

This half day online session is delivered via Zoom, and presented by Dr Chin Whybrew. Chin is a GP in Cheltenham with a passion for primary care dermatology, and dermoscopy in particular. She has been teaching dermoscopy since 2012, for the Cardiff dermoscopy course, Primary Care Dermatology Society and independently for practices and CCGs across the UK. This is an interactive course with plenty of opportunity to practice assessing lesions.

- How dermoscopy works and practical tips, including how to get good dermoscopy photos and troubleshooting tips
- A practical demonstration of the Dermlite DL200 Hybrid. This includes how to turn it on, focus it, charge it, clean it etc.
- Interpretation of dermoscopic structures in benign lesions (seb K, angiomas, warts, dermatofibromas, sebaceous hyperplasia, comedones), BCCs and melanomas (and how this always needs to be taken in clinical context)
- How to put it all together into a simple algorithm
- Other uses of dermoscopy in primary care
